Memorandum for: Chief of Operations/DDP

1. Confirming my telephone call of this morning to your office, this is to inform you that Mr. Walter Hamilton, of the staff of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, left by plane today for Paris where he will meet Mr. Corbin Allardice, the Committee Staff Director, who is already overseas.

2. The two will then proceed to London, where they will "be in the hands of the British" to study certain questions in the atomic energy field. They are not planning to visit any American installations in England, but can be reached through Mr. Penfield, of the State Department, at the Embassy. They will return to Paris for additional meetings, leaving for the U. S. on 8 October.

3. Mr. Hamilton called me to advise me of his departure in case we wished to take any note of it while he is abroad. However, as there is no apparent danger, it is my opinion that no steps need be taken other than that you may wish to let the senior representatives in [REDACTED] know of their presence. Col. [REDACTED], concurs in this view. Both of these men are considered knowledgeable in American atomic energy developments.
